Thayer Coggin is one of the most celebrated names in luxury home furnishings. Entering into business in 1953, Thayer Coggin carved out a unique identity in the home furnishings market through a commitment to modern, classic design. Through founder Thayer Coggin's vision and Distinguished Design Award honoree Milo Baughman's creations, Thayer Coggin has amassed a collection of some of the most recognizable furniture designs in the world and a collection of furniture that will lend itself to any environment and enhance any space.

All Thayer Coggin upholstery is bench-made with the same craftsman upholstering the entire piece. Our furniture is produced in the United States and is tailor-made to the client's exact specifications. Thayer Coggin's craftspeople work in our state-of-the-art, 200,000 square-foot manufacturing facility in High Point, North Carolina.

Thayer Coggin furniture is made with the finest materials available and is fully customizable. Our products are available in a variety of wood, metal and fabric options. Our in-house fabric supply boasts hundreds of fabric choices in a variety of colors, patterns and materials, and we gladly accept client fabrics. Thayer Coggin uses the highest quality cushioning available: all polyurethane foams used in our seat constructions are environmentally-safe and produced without the use of ozone destroying CFC's. These premium cushions are proven in laboratory tests and actual applications to be durable, versatile and very comfortable.
